Subject: Invitation to the 13th ESLHO Symposium in Lisbon (7 Nov 2024)

Dear colleagues,

We are happy to invite you to the 13th ESLHO Symposium on Multi-omics Approaches for Diagnosis and Monitoring of Hematological Malignancies, which will be held on the 7th of November 2024 in Lisbon, Portugal. ESLHO and the European consortia EuroMRD, EuroFlow, and EuroClonality are looking forward to welcoming you to this event!

Event Details:

Date: 7 November 2024
Location: Convento do Beato, Lisbon, Portugal
Title: 13th ESLHO Symposium on Multi-omics Approaches for Diagnosis and Monitoring of Hematological Malignancies

Scientific Program: The program consists of the following sessions (see attached flyer):

1. Technical strategies and platforms
2. Application of multi-omics in hematological malignancies
3. Integration of omics
4. Open abstract session on innovative laboratory diagnostics in hemato-oncology and immunology

These sessions will include lectures by well-known international speakers, as well as selected abstract-based presentations. In addition to the high-level scientific lectures, the emphasis of the ESLHO symposium is on the interactions between clinicians, laboratory specialists and other participants during the breaks and the poster session.

Call for Abstracts: All participants are invited to submit an abstract to present their latest scientific work. The abstracts should be linked to one of the session topics. The Scientific Committee will select several abstracts for oral presentation in one of the sessions. Posters of the remaining submitted abstracts will be presented during a special poster session and several of the authors will get the opportunity to pitch their poster in a short Blitz presentation.

The presenting author of a selected oral presentation (except for the poster blitz presentations) will receive a travel grant of maximally € 500, according to actual costs.

Furthermore, during the poster session, the audience will be invited to rank the presented posters. The author of the winning poster will receive a personal prize of € 500 and there will also be a prize for the second and third place.

You can find the instructions for abstract submission and the abstract template document on our website.

Accreditation: The 13th ESLHO Symposium is accredited by the EBAH with 7 CME points.

Registration & Fees:

- Early Bird registration fee (until 9 September 2024): € 300
- Regular registration fee (after 9 September 2024): € 350

The fee includes the Symposium dinner on November 7.

Registration is open now. You can submit your registration via the Registration page on our website.

Please note, this is an in-person event only.

Feel free to circulate this information to interested colleagues!

For more information, check our website or contact Laura Bargeman (l.bargeman@eslho.org). We look forward to welcoming you to Lisbon for this exciting event.

With kind regards,
On behalf of the ESLHO team

Prof. dr. Jacques J.M. van Dongen